ALMA MATER

*On a hill in Ridley Township
There's a school most dear.
Alma Mater we have named it,
Come, let forth our cheer.
Ridley Township! May we ever
Keep thy name most high—
You have set a standard for us
May it never die!*

*On the field or in the classroom
May thy children be.
Striving ever onward, upward
To improve with thee!
Ridley Township! Never waver
From thy destiny—
And thy many sons and daughters
Loyal still will be.*

*Through the years which lie before us
Be our guiding star—
Let thy spirit live within us
Though we wander far—
Ridley Township! Alma Mater!
We'll remember thee
And thy precepts long will linger
In our memory.*

Folsom, Pennsylvania

Foreword

Ridley Township is more than a school building. It is larger than a student body, and more complex than an administrative organization. It is not, in fact, the mere combination of these parts. Ridley Township is, instead, a way of life. For most students, it has been the very center of their lives for three stimulating, productive, but quickly-passing years.

There is an aura about Ridley that we could never fully explain to anyone. There is something here that must be experienced to be understood. The words of our Alma Mater capture some of the tangibles of Ridley Township and pleasantly intertwine them with several intangibles such as "precepts" and "spirit" and "destiny."

Listen now as we sing our Alma Mater for you. Gaze on the faces of our fellow classmates and patient instructors. Read the words that we have written so ineptly in trying to convey that certain feeling, that certain warmth and pride that fills our hearts whenever we begin to sing "On a hill in Ridley Township. . ."

ADMINISTRATION and PERSONNEL

Responsible school board members converse before start of meeting. Sitting: Charles Perry, Bertha Coverdale, James Lambert, John Shotwell, James Barton and Eugene Radewonuk.

Standing: Guy de Furia, Albert Fullerton, Daniel Greim, Jeff Leary and Wilber Coles. The 1962-63 budget was of primary importance at this session.

Sound school system due to efforts of SCHOOL BOARD

Examining a report of the evaluating committee are School Board officials Bertha Coverdale, secretary; Robert Donato, superintendent; Charles Perry, president; John O'Brien, assistant superintendent and Albert Fullerton, vice-president.

New buildings, modern classrooms and outstanding equipment are the results of the School Board's interest and untiring efforts. Co-operation of Township's private citizens, the faculty and students enables these civic-minded individuals to improve the educational facilities and environment. The recently painted classrooms and new light fixtures in our high school represent a portion of the Board's endeavors to create an atmosphere conducive to learning.

Behind the scenes this group carries many of the greatest burdens encountered in governing a school system. They must not only conduct the normal functions such as prepare and stick to a yearly budget, but they must be capable of meeting unusual situations such as the evaluating schedule of the Senior High which took place this year.

In regular meetings our School Board meets at least once a month in the newly constructed Administration Building which is conveniently located near the Junior and Senior High Schools.

SUPERINTENDENT studies Russian school system firsthand

Ridley Township's School District Supervisor, Mr. Robert V. Donato and his assistant Mr. John W. O'Brien know that the world of tomorrow will place greater demands upon the individual. Therefore they try to enable each young citizen to learn as much as he possibly can before graduating into the adult business world. Ridley Township public schools are designed to provide the type of education needed to aid students in developing their individual aptitudes and abilities. The administrators are aware that well-qualified instructors and modern buildings increase a scholar's desire to learn.

During a recent tour of the Soviet Union, Mr. Donato and eighteen other well-known educators from this country had an opportunity to study the Russian educational system. The group stopped at Leningrad, Kiev and Moscow where they visited schools and places of historical interest.

PRINCIPALS successfully administrate academic affairs

Quality education is of supreme importance in our society today because of the increased need for leaders and responsible workers in the future. Our administrators, Mr. Norman B. L. Ferguson, principal, and Mr. Van S. Evangelou, assistant principal, are constantly striving to improve our secondary educational program to enable the students to encounter the demands of life in the modern world.

Responsibility for providing a highly effective and well-balanced curriculum is one of the tasks of these men. Through their leadership Ridley Township High School has offered a schedule of wide range to its pupils. This curriculum is designed to equip all students with a knowledge of their individual talents and aptitudes. It is the aspiration of our principals that our graduates will go forth into the community with the attitude and background that will make them contributing and responsible members of their society.

COUNSELORS' navigation sets course for chosen careers

In this age of specialization, it is becoming increasingly necessary for students to find their niche in life through the proper education. The purpose of the guidance department is to assist the individual in discovering his own talents and then direct him into sensible use of such ability. He is advised on what courses to take to prepare him for college or for a suitable vocation.

Through an organized schedule of career conferences featuring speakers from all walks of life, the student body is kept aware of job and education opportunities, training programs, and available scholarships. With the conscientious help offered by the counselors, the student is better suited to cope with problems he will meet.

SECRETARIES function to co-ordinate school activities

Recording secretary Mrs. Anne Michelson keeps student records up to date by entering class ranks and final grades.

Principal Norman B. L. Ferguson, checks correspondence with Mrs. Mary Hamilton as Mrs. Sophie Armstrong answers telephone.

Imperative to school life, the secretaries are those pleasant women most students come in contact with daily. Broadcasting morning announcements, duplicating the absentee reports, typing important documents, and answering the constantly ringing telephones are just a few of the many chores they perform each day. Taking dictation, running the mimeograph machines, and maintaining an efficient office are other duties of the secretaries.

In addition, these indispensable women are ready to help anyone needing information, envelopes, lost lunches, or other unpredictable items. In spite of these time-consuming interruptions they perform their tasks with cheerful smiles for everyone. One can readily see that the secretaries do their utmost to make office life at Ridley run smoothly and effectively.

Office-aide Carolyn Dubolino receives key to the publications room from office secretary Mrs. Rubye Methven.

Mrs. E. Bergin, R.N.
B.S., West Chester

Senior William Donato visits the clinic for periodic checkup while Nurse Mrs. Erma Bergin brings his medical health records up to date for the school files.

MEDICAL SUITE equipped with modern health facilities

Fulfilling a very necessary service for the pupils and teachers of Ridley Township is the school clinic, capably directed by Nurse Erma Bergin. Administering all types of eye, hearing, weight, and height tests to the seniors and sophomores is only one of its various important duties. Pamphlets, booklets and other materials concerning medicine are kept in the clinic and are available for student use throughout the year.

School physician, Dr. Lawrence Starer, gives the juniors and all athletes participating in sports complete physical examinations. Free polio shots are also available to school children in the district.

Regardless of their demanding schedule of duties, Dr. Starer and Mrs. Bergin always lend a helping hand to school personnel. Because of their efficient work and cheerful attitude, our clinic has become an essential center in the school.

Polio shots are administered by school physician Dr. Lawrence J. Starer to Thelma Gardiner and Diane Averill in the school's medical suite.

Friendly cashiers at cafeteria line make change for the eager diners who take advantage of the wide variety of fine foods offered every day by the school lunch program.

Approaching sixth-period World Cultures test forces Janet Young to brush up on modern Western European geography while enjoying a deliciously-prepared school meal.

Well-organized staff maintains an attractive CAFETERIA

Light green walls, big picture windows, and comfortable furniture make an attractive setting for our cafeteria. In this atmosphere students can enjoy the delicious lunches prepared by the staff.

Each day students may choose from three different, well-balanced lunches at very modest prices. These meals can be purchased for such reasonable rates because the cafeteria is run on a non-profit basis and receives government subsidies. The menus planned by the school dietitian are prepared by a capable staff in a modern kitchen. Speed and efficiency in serving have been maintained by using two lunch lines and, with the aid of student cafeteria workers, the clean-up chore has been alleviated.

Because of the pleasant atmosphere and the good hearty meals served, the student body can depend on an enjoyable noontime break where they can relax in preparation for their afternoon classes.

Milk and cookies for dessert are purchased at the cafeteria's popular dairy bar by Diane Ricci as Steven Stewart and Kenneth Sipple await their turns.

MAINTENANCE crew proves indispensable and unfailing

Custodian Mr. Ottavio Deigrande and janitress Mrs. Ruth Mitchell prepare the building for the next morning's sessions.

Operating behind the scenes, almost unnoticed, are the men and women who faithfully maintain the school plant as a pleasant environment in which to study. The results and evidence of the "unseen" workers constantly surround the school personnel.

Broken lockers repaired and classrooms kept neat and clean are more obvious than the maintenance and care of heating and electrical facilities, general repairs, and the filling of supply requisitions; but all of these are only a few of the jobs undertaken by the custodial staff. The grounds are kept orderly and attractive in appearance and the fields are skilfully attended to insure safety to athletes.

Under the capable and skilled hands of these hard workers, the high school assumes an atmosphere that is more than adequate and suited to learning.

Building supervisor Mr. Joseph Foltz fills a requisition for co-worker Mr. James Wilson from the amply-stocked storeroom.

Maintenance director Mr. Edward Di Paolo and assistants Mr. John Wentz and Mr. Joseph Hess check on repair of faulty door hinge.

ATHLETICS

Chilly autumn day finds exuberant cheerleaders set for another game. Effervescent squad consists of Donna Wetzel, Andrea Poplak, Capt. Carryn Dubrino, Peggy Woerner, Capt. Diane Lake, Penny McIntosh, and Bernice Bumberg.

CHEERLEADERS symbolize the spirit of Ridley Township

After every touchdown, extra-point formation is exhibited not only on the field by the players but also on the sidelines by the happy Ridley cheerleaders.

Adding vim, vigor, and vitality to Township's athletic program, the cheerleaders play an important part in school life. Leading spectators in songs and cheers are a few of their responsibilities.

Throughout the year, these girls strive to enlighten the interest of students and to perpetuate the abundant school spirit. Practice sessions and pep rallies are other jobs the girls undertake. Support from the student body encourages the many athletes who vie for the Green and White on the field of sport.

Each spring a faculty committee selects a squad for the coming year, which includes varsity members and several alternates. Candidates are judged first on the basis of scholastic ability, then on co-ordination, appearance and personality. The "school on the hill" is characterized by the pep and spirit personified in its cheerleaders.

Eliciting the spirit of the entire student body with a lively "Fight Team, Fight," the Ridley cheerleaders anticipate the annual Oil Can game with Eddystone.

JAYVEES display enthusiasm and determination in HOCKEY

Deep in enemy territory, J.V. Raiderette Pat Sloan envisions another tally for the ranks of Ridley Township on way to posting 5-0 win over Upper Merion.

Surrounded by her adversaries, Ridley center forward Jamie Marquard's objective is to reach ball just passed to her by her teammate left winger.

Undoubtedly awe-stricken is the Marple-Newtown goal tender as she witnesses a Bobbie Zimmer rocket whiz past her for another score.

Ahead of the field, Bobbie Zimmer prepares herself for an all-out attack on the Marple-Newtown goal. Bobbie's bombardment throughout the game paced the Raiderettes to a 6-1 taming of the Tigers.

triumphs, two defeats, one deadlock in action-packed hockey

Ridley right inner Barbara Pace squares away with her Harriton foe at the midfield stripe to gain possession of the ball and set up an offensive attack.

Captained by seniors Bobbie Zimmer and Barbara Pace, Township's '62 varsity hockey team started slowly by tying Radnor 2-2. The enthusiastic players got into the swing of things in their next game with a win of 5-1 over Penncrest. The team hit full stride with impressive shutout victories over undefeated Springfield 1-0 and Chester 2-0. Next came a win over Chichester 5-2, and a one-sided scoring spree against Upper Merion 5-0.

Despite the teamwork and hustle of Township's girls, they were beaten 8-1 by Upper Darby. After the loss to the Royals, the girls bounced back to win over Marple-Newtown 6-1. The Harriton game, the last of the season, proved a defeat for Township of 4-1.

Top scorer of the year was Janet Madison with 10 goals, followed by Bobbie Zimmer with 7. Under the capable coaching of Mrs. Dora Plummer, this year has been one of Ridley's finest seasons.

Upended Harriton opponent proves no obstacle for the swift-moving Raiderettes as center forward Janet Madison closes in on the rival's goal keeper.

Crisscross at determination is evident on the face of Mike Korman as he battles past the field to come far ahead of all opponents.

Ridley Township's cross country team coached by Mr. Donald Ross, had a slow beginning, dropping four in a row. Falling to the Clippers of Chester, Springfield, and Upper Darby, they then started to warm up and Swarthmore just squeaked by with only a two-point advantage.

Really getting hot, the cindermen ran for an impressive victory over Interboro and, still sizzling, ripped by Upper Merion. In a four-game string of setbacks, the Raiders incurred losses to Marple, Harriton, Penncrest, and Media.

Flaring up, three consecutive victories completed the log of 5-8. Never giving up, the harriers exhibited fine spirit.

Not showing any signs of strain after his long journey, Paul Costello breezes down the home stretch to notch another top finish for the Raider Cindermen.

After defeating the Alumni 8-1 in the opening game, the Township booters fell before the onslaught of Kennett Square 7-3. Bouncing back to their usual form, the soccer squad, on home territory, downed West Chester, always a nemesis, by one point.

Dissatisfied with only tying Bartram, a representative of the Philadelphia Public League, the Ridley eleven downed Brandywine, Chester, and Lower Merion successively in excellent defensive exhibitions.

As the season progressed, Upper Darby's Royals tied Township 2-2 but Cheltenham was easily defeated to the tune of 4-1. Fighting an uphill battle, the Raiders finally succumbed to Haverford, which later became the Suburban champions.

Coached by Mr. Robert Aiken, Ridley came back to defeat Penncrest but was stopped by the Highlanders of Harrington in a 1-0 shutout.

With the season drawing to a close, the team elicited its best effort, the success of which was readily visible in its victories over two real powerhouses of the suburban area. Norristown and Abington. Ending the campaign away from home, the booters came as close as ever to defeating experienced Girard College but fell 1-0.

Coiled to strike, Raider booter Drew Boyd "heads" the ball downfield to a more advantageous position. Ridley dominated the game and topped Abington 5-2.

Whenever the name Ridley Township is mentioned, opposing football coaches shudder. This year was no exception, for the Raiders put up stiff competition in every game in which they appeared. Although the breaks were not always with them, Township's gridders still managed a record of six wins and four defeats.

To begin the campaign, the Raiders invaded the Ches-Mont league for a contest with Phoenixville. They waited just fifty seconds to notch their first tally on an 82-yard gallop, and by the end of the afternoon, the score stood at 21-0 with Township on top.

Stiff defense highlighted the Raider's encounter with mighty Norristown. Two long runs in the fourth period broke up the game as the Eagles were bested 20-6. Stubborn Upper Merion refused to yield to the high-gearred Ridley offense in the first half of the home opener, but three quick scores iced the game for Township at the final of 19-0.

Putting on their biggest show of the year, the Marionmen romped over Harrison 41-7, as five different Raiders managed to cross the goal line into pay dirt.

GREEN RAIDERS start off strong in stretching winning

Lightning burst of speed sends scatback Jack Hoopes past his own blocking and into the territory of Lower Merion's Bruce McKissock. Hoopes' efforts were to no avail as the Ardmore Aces took a 14-6 victory.

Penncrest's Butch Ahrens discovers that "Busting" pass patterns is a specialty of fleet halfback Howard Starks. Our Raiders scampered to a 20-14 triumph.

At Marple-Newtown, the Big Green hoped to continue their victory skein, but fate and the elements conspired against them. Murky weather limited their vaunted passing attack and the speedy Marple Tigers came out on top, 20-13.

Ridley returned to its winning ways in a Monday game with Penncrest, but not without great cost. The 20-14 victory was marred by two injuries to key players.

Township followers were then dismayed by a rare occurrence in Ridley football, three straight defeats. A 14-6 setback by the Lower Merion Aces was sandwiched between losses to Suburban two co-champs, Plymouth-Whitemarsh and Springfield. The Colonials of Plymouth lofted two long aerals past the injury-riddled Raider secondary for a 13-0 conquest. The Springfield Cougars squeaked past the Marion forces by 13-6.

For the seventh consecutive year, the Oil Can stayed at Eddystone as the Green Raiders copped a 20-14 Turkey Day triumph over the Stoners. The season had hardly ended when Coach Marion's bright prospects looked toward the coming campaign.

In a handoff send, first baseman, Paul Froma, straight into a sack of a line from Penncrest. Ensuing touchdown drive put the Raiders ahead to stay in this contest which ended at 20-14.

home four league championships

Four proud standard-bearers for the Green Grapplers of Ridley Township took league title bringing distinction to the school. Champs Bill Netzer, Dick MacRone, Tim Joyce and Glenn Miller prepare for districts.

Varsity wrestling, coached by Mr. Carl Schnellenbach, completed its second season with an outstanding record of ten wins against only one defeat. In their first match the Green Grapplers easily defeated Coatesville and went on to total five successive wins. At the Haverford Holiday Tournament, Allen Drake, Dick MacRone, and George Clark advanced to the finals, with MacRone taking home the 127-lb. title. After a heart-breaking loss to Springfield, the Ridley Matmen rebounded with five more impressive victories.

In the Suburban League eliminations, the Raiders proved to be the best team in Section Two by winning in more classes than any other school. Seven wrestlers progressed to the finals, with co-captains Bill Netzer and Tim Joyce, Dick MacRone and Glenn Miller going on to capture the crowns. Subsequent matches brought MacRone and Miller to the Eastern State Regionals, where they placed second and fourth respectively. In dual meet competition, Joyce and Miller remained undefeated to pace the Grapplers to 94 wins and only 39 losses.

"All's fair," motions the referee as one of the Ridley heavies, Phil Verdon, lifts his Lion foe and bodily deposits Penncrest wrestler on the mats.

Completing an almost perfect season was the accomplishment of our girls' varsity basketball team. Head coach, Miss Sara Lou Peck, was very pleased with the team's achievements throughout their season.

Seven victories and one loss were compiled by the Raiderettes. Their single loss was to Springfield. Because of injuries, varsity guards Sandy Miller and Bert Robertson were unable to play in this important game. Township's offensive players scored a total of 420 points during the season. Forwards Judy Blaugher, Eleanor Payne, and Bobbie Zimmer each averaged fifteen points per game. Alert defensive tactics held opponents to 204 points. The team won games against Chichester, Marple Newtown, Harriton, Radnor, Penncrest, Chester, and Upper Merion by scoring an average of 25 points per game above their opponents.

Experienced players, excellent coaching, and determination combined to give the Raiderettes a very successful season.

Flying high, top-scoring guard Jack Hoopes soars above the court to avoid having his shot blocked by Norristown front court man, Bill Wood. Hoopes' thirteen points were not enough to salvage the game, as the Eagles won 80-48.

Opening-day jitters are eased during an infrequent break by Raider coach Mr. Hugh Wynne. Employing effective strategy, Township posted a 51-42 victory over Eddystone.

Feeling his oats, George Frame goes high to be ready to tap in a missed shot. His efforts proved unnecessary, however, as the sharpshooting of Adam Murrison paved the way to a five point triumph over Marple-Newtown's Tigers.

as underclass hoop-hitters exhibit great prospect for future

Ridley Township's basketball fortunes this year might very well have been reversed had it been for only a few "breaks." The 7-16 record posted by the Raiders in this year's campaign is indicative of neither the sterling play they exhibited at times nor, on the other hand, the very poor shows they put on in a few contests.

Quickly equalling their victory slate of the previous year with an opening day win over Eddystone, the Courtmen looked toward the coming schedule with enthusiasm. At Christmas, their record had evened out to a .500 clip. Obviously not a contender for Kiwanis Tournament honors, the Big Green surprised everyone by breezing past Interboro and then, in a stunning upset, rolling over Upper Darby. Every accomplishment, however, seemed to be nullified in the finals against Springfield by one of the poorest performances of the year.

At one time or another, the Raider Five played every team in Section Two on equal terms. Nevertheless, a disappointing 3-9 league finish left Coach Wynne only with the hopes of a more prosperous future.

Battling Cougar center Ted Crary has to contend with rugged Raider George Frame before reaching almost to the rafters to pull down a rebound.

Man of action, Skip Logan, belts another drive far into the enemy outfield much to the dismay of the pro-Chickster on deck.

Tight Ridley infield is the key to its well-gear'd defense, quelling many rallies before they can start. Second sacker Ed Lynn snares this bleeder and pegs to Skip Logan.

RAIDERS emerge top contenders for section championship

Long lead of Raider Ed Lynn is not to the liking of the Springfield hurler. Cougars extra-inning rally capped by daring steal of home resulted in 9-8 win and temporary break of first-place tie

in suburban BASEBALL

Bright hopes for a promising future began Township's baseball season. Combined individual talents and teamwork often succeeded in defeating opponents.

Under the skilled guidance of Coach Robert Adam, the team developed co-operation, co-ordination, and all-around efficiency. As the season progressed, each boy practiced hard to further strengthen any weak points in batting or fielding.

These efforts were evident in the opening day win over Chester, 7-2. The second game resulted in a 10-0 no-hit drubbing of Chichester, one of the most perfect games ever recorded in schoolboy annals. At midseason, Ridley found itself well involved in a tight struggle for Section Two championship.

About to touch paydirt, Bob Hornbrook trudges in happily to pave to a 10-0 rout of Chichester on Tom Curran's no-hitter

Precision timing in the swing of Raider Rich McLaughlin brings delight to the home crowd. He and his Ridley teammates kept pace with the Suburban Two leaders with this drubbing of Harrison

in TRACK and FIELD

Whether it be tossing the javelin, jumping the hurdles, skimming the high jump or timed running, Ridley Township's Track and Field team always showed traditional Raider spirit and sportsmanship. Under the supervision of Mr. Donald Ross and Mr. Theodore Beck, the team tried to beat its spectacular 1960-61 record.

This year the team had a great boost, as the track was greatly improved during the summer and there was an addition to the already ample supply of field equipment. The team also had the advantage of returning Senior and Junior lettermen along with promising new Sophomore stars.

With an outstanding record to uphold the team worked exceedingly hard to maintain another season of outstanding sporting events for the Green and White.

Form of a champion is evident in the vaulting of Ridley's Glenn Miller as he sails over the 10-foot mark in a preliminary jump.

Fast start is the key to a successful dash. Ridley's Clarence Johnson, Geoffrey Grundy, and Bob Smith all get jump over Penncrest foe in 100-yd. race won by Grundy in 10.8 seconds.

Setting his best foot forward, Curt Wright's giant stride and grimacing face enable him to take an early lead over Penncrest adversary in this hurdles heat leading to finals.

Fine squad builds lacrosse reputation for Ridley Township. Front row: Miss Mary Melace, D. Dickerson, J. Lomax, M. Brownlee, N. McClintock, M. Naumowich, K. Hankins, L. Sheldon, J. Madison, V. ## LACROSSE attains new prominence as participation doubles

Coached by Miss Mary Melace and Miss Sara Lou Peck, the Lacrosse Team entered its second varsity season with a great deal of pep and enthusiasm for a winning season. There were not only a large group of varsity returning, but also many new girls to supplement the J.V. squad.

With their team spirit, sportsmanship, and individual talent, the Lacrosse Team was optimistic for a successful season. The first game on April 18 with Marple-Newtown reinforced these hopes, since the Raiderettes came through with a victory by an overwhelming score of 7 to 3.

Carefully heeding white line delineating the goal's crease, Bobbie Zimmer has no other alternative than to await the next move of the Marple-Newtown goal tender.

Fast on the heels of her Marple-Newtown foe, Janet Madison has her mind on the set play that will soon bring Township another goal. Raiderettes tamed the Tigers with a 7-3 flurry.

GIRLS' agility on the diamond impressive in SOFTBALL

Fair or foul? Slashing line drive off the bat of Marie Gorman hugs line but stays fair for Ridley at Chester.

Determination for a victorious season was in the minds of all Softball players, since this was the last year for Softball.

Preceded by a robust practice session, the final competition for team positions was foremost in each candidate's thoughts, as Coach Mrs. Dora Plummer judged each girl's merits. Many hours were spent in such sessions, in order to develop another well coordinated team for Ridley.

Much spirit was generated as the date for the opening game, April 17, drew near. Chester High School was the first opponent for the Raiderettes and this year the game was played on Chester's home field, making it a little harder for a Township victory. Seven games were scheduled and hopes were high for an undefeated year.

To each different individual, one particular sport or activity holds special interest. Although classified as minor sports, rifle, golf and swimming have many such devotees at Ridley Township, and the school competes interscholastically in all three.

Of the three, rifle has had the longest existence on the Ridley agenda. The group of boys meets every Monday and engages in dual competition with area schools. A similar team for girls is under organization.

Ridley's golf fanatics got a chance to show their prowess on the links as they teed off against Suburban foes. In swimming, four Raider lads vied in district play.

Aquatically-inclined Raiders put on fine exhibitions in upholding the name of Township. This year's members are James Naumowich, John Schmidt, Steven Dunne and Richard McGraw (missing from photograph).

Who's shooting? Rich Sedlak's team is on offense, but big Phil Verdon doesn't want to make things too easy. Verdon's win knocked the Sedlak squad out of the competition.

Magic shooting touch of Paul Jones adds another two points to his team's score. Subsequent champions needed this victory and one other over the same team to earn the title.

INTRAMURALS gain new importance in expanding athletics

At Ridley Township the intramural program attained a new air of dignity this year, chiefly due to its expansion. Previously conducted on weekdays after school, boys' intramurals were played on successive Saturdays from January through March. With teams chosen by a draft of all interested in participating, a series of twelve games per team was played to determine the champion. As it turned out, after the twelfth week a tie existed between teams captained by Bill Donato and Tim Joyce. In the ensuing play-off, the team of Bill Donato, Paul Jones, Don Green, John Quigley, Roy Foxwell, Doug McCrea, and Steve Serbin emerged victorious and received trophies.

Girls' intramurals were newly instituted this year and were scheduled on a round-robin basis. The teams were gathered by homeroom and after a series of afternoon games, Homeroom 10-1 came out on top.

Girls steal the gymnasium and also the scene. Team from homeroom 12-5, represented here by shooter Margene Naumowich was eliminated in play-offs

LANGUAGE study promotes better worldwide understanding

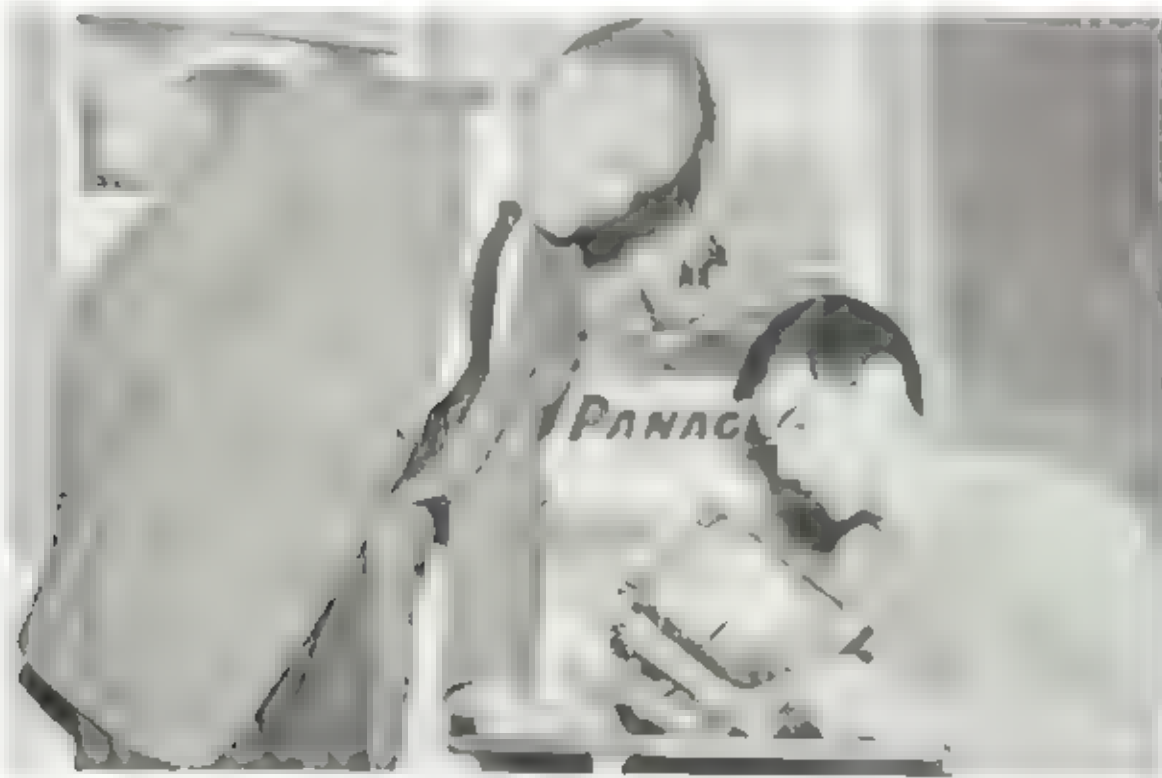

In today's jet-age, when we are only a few hours from distant lands people find themselves in need of a way to communicate with others of foreign tongue. Ridley Township's language department offers courses in Spanish, Latin, French, and German.

To complement excellent classroom facilities, there is a laboratory of tape recorders. With this equipment students can practice the proper pronunciation of difficult words and phrases by repetition and imitation. The end result of this procedure is that students are well-versed in the idiomatic expressions of the new language.

Stressing not only grammar but also fluency in conversation, Ridley Township has amply met the challenge of increased emphasis on language.

Mastery of ENGLISH skills insures accurate communication

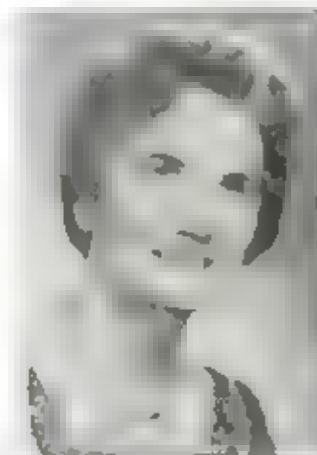

Modern satirical literature is topic of discussion as Mrs. Kathryn Powell quotes "Uncle Pogo" for William Cox and Cheryl White.

Success in every phase of life depends upon one's proficiency in the use of the English language. To help students achieve this proficiency, the English department has developed a course of study this year which provides for a well-balanced program of listening, speaking, reading, and writing.

An important innovation in the English program is the use of lay readers who are assisting the teachers in theme correction so that greater emphasis may be placed upon skill in writing.

Through careful planning the department has made it possible for students to enjoy varied experiences in English that give them a broad cultural background and at the same time prepare them to meet the practical demands of college business and industry.

new concepts in ever-changing world of MATHEMATICS

Continual adjustment of courses to suit the needs of today's student has been a primary objective of the mathematics department during the past years. The curriculum for those preparing for college includes subjects ranging from Algebra I to Advanced Mathematics. In addition, for the non-academic pupil, General and Practical Math are also available as electives.

During this year, there has been a shifting emphasis to the structure of mathematics rather than to its manipulative skills. To this end our teachers have introduced a fascinating device which assists in presenting basic concepts. The Cuisenaire Rod is a series of precision-made blocks which simplifies understanding the pattern of our number system.

With the help of the newest teaching aids, the staff strives to give its students a thorough knowledge of mathematics.

Increased laboratory experimentation and modern equipment

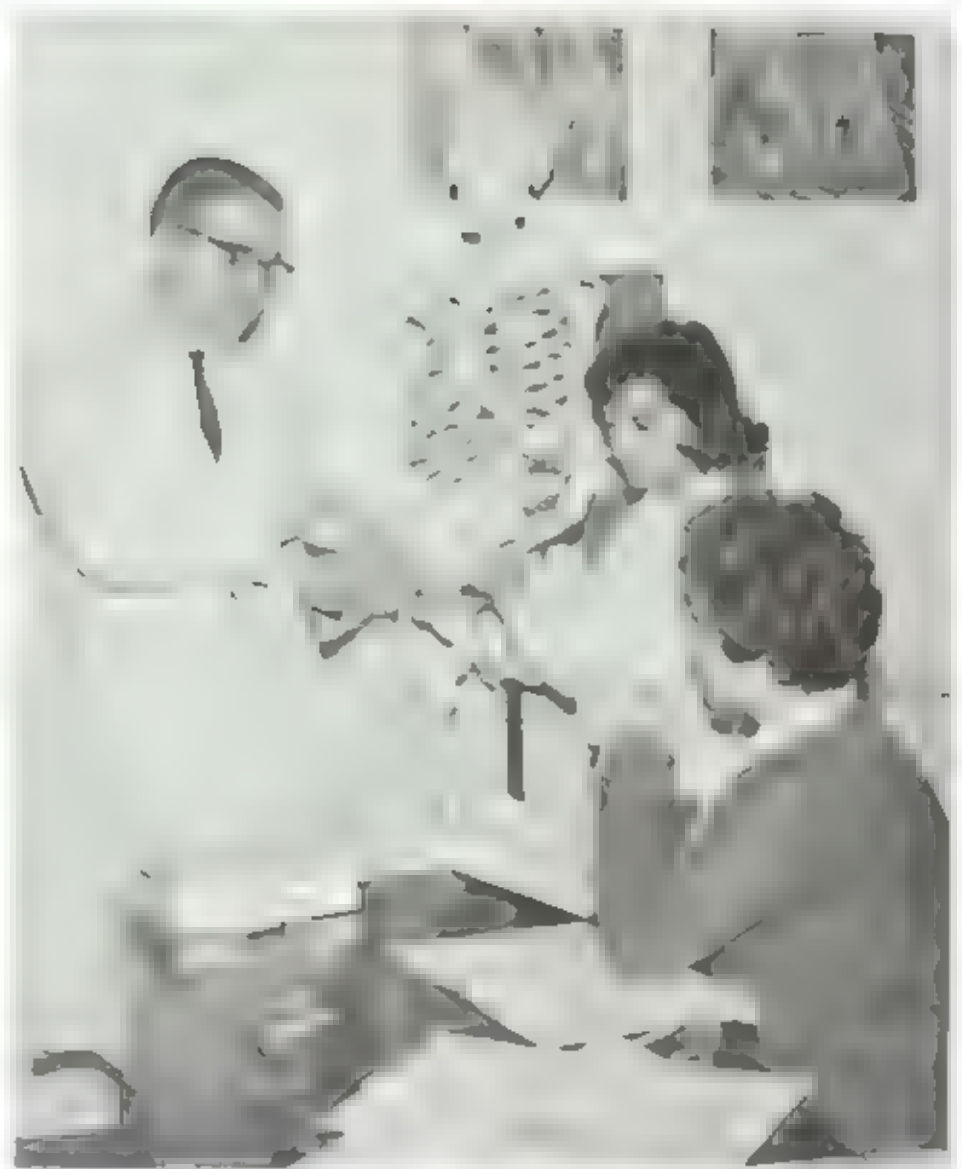

Through the variety of courses, every phase of scientific endeavor is covered adequately enough to give the individual every possible advantage. The latest laboratory equipment, visual aids and the best in texts and reference materials motivates even the top-notch scholar.

Included in the curriculum are various levels of study effectively combining lectures with lab work. The mysteries of nature and the complexities of all forms of life from the one-celled animals to the human are unveiled in Biology. # in many fields of business Opportunities for a graduate from Ridley Township's business education course are unlimited. Our excellent staff, combined with the very latest in office machinery, enables pupils to meet the varied demands of the modern business world.

Classes in typing, and subjects ranging from business arithmetic in the sophomore year to shorthand in the senior year, are designed for the commercial student who is specializing in either the secretarial, clerical, or accounting fields. To make their daily presentation more interesting, the teachers supplement everyday drills with such things as recorded dictation and typing to music. Skill, speed, and accuracy are the aims stressed in these classes.

Those selecting the business course can rely on the training they receive to supply them with a good basic background for whatever future they choose, whether it be to further their education in this area or to find immediate employment in industry.

Supervised VOCATIONAL training guarantees industry of Craftsmanship is the goal of the vocational curriculum for boys. Various talents are exhibited in well-equipped shops geared to prepare the student for the career of his choice. Instruction includes not only the practical work, but also technical skill and safety precautions.

Projects built in wood shop require mastery of both hand and power tools. The fundamentals learned provide each student with the essential background and experience to be employed as a cabinet maker upon graduation.

Machine shop offers an opportunity to gain experience in tool design and maintenance of all equipment. A working knowledge of the complexities of gears, cogs and other parts of machinery enables a graduate to take his place in one of the many shops in this area of employment.

All the elements of an efficient service station are evident in the auto shop, where R.T.H.S. students and all employees of the school district can have their cars repaired. Future mechanics repair, overhaul, and even rebuild automobiles.

Broadening the horizons of the technically-minded boy is the objective of the Industrial Arts course. These classes provide the opportunity to become adept in working with leather, ceramics, plastics and sheet metal.

Technique of precise measurement and construction of plane figures in drafting is shown to Robert Blundin by Mr. Michael D'Guilio.

Future homemakers prove their culinary talents by preparing full course meal they will serve to the school administrators and board members.

HOME ECONOMICS courses prepare future homemakers

Homemaker is the title most girls will some day bear and responsibility is its chief attribute. To prepare them to fill this future role, the courses in home management and household arts offer variety.

As an individual the girl herself is not neglected and personal grooming is stressed. Here she becomes vitally aware of simplicity, color blends, styles, proper use of accessories, poise and general neatness.

To manage efficiently and at the same time to maintain one's personal touch, the department approaches the study with a realistic outlook. Projects which are tangible proof of this approach are the annual School Board Dinner and the Spring Fashion Show.

Tasks assume greater importance to those who are taught that attractive, nourishing meals, eye-appealing decoration, careful budgeting and intelligent child care work together to make a house more home-like.

Good workmanship is a prime requisite for a seamstress. Miss Dorothy Hampton shows Kathy Cuniff the correct way to stitch the darts in the pajamas she's making.

Broad scope of lecture series enlightens SEMINAR group

Introducing scholars to ramifications of culture that otherwise would have gone unheeded in their school life is the aim of the Seminar. This program is conducted on a college level for above-average students whose futures include both the academic and business world.

Seminar, through bi-weekly meetings, orients students to diversified fields ranging from the classics to the stock exchange. Faculty members conduct a series of lectures which familiarizes the group with a newer and broader aspect of their subject. Through these sessions, Seminar provides the enrollees with a better appreciation of all phases of life.

Seminar students attentively absorb the lecture on the Spanish-speaking countries of Central and South America being delivered by Mr. Claude Buchanan.

DRIVER EDUCATION promotes national highway safety

"Practice makes perfect" and perfection is the goal of the driver education course. Driving skills and an adequate knowledge of safety laws enable students to earn their licenses and develop into competent drivers.

Background for practical training is provided by a Driver Theory class while fundamentals of the highways are taught in a dual-control car. Careful attention to individual problems and access to excellent facilities provide the trainee with more than competent instruction. Tomorrow's driver will be of the best quality with this continued emphasis on the fine points of driving.

Anticipating his first experience behind the wheel of the driver education car, William Wheaton crosses his fingers for luck and takes keys from Mr. Samuel Miller.

Faced with the problem of writing harmony for a melody assigned by Mr. Samuel Stinger, Theory and Harmony pupils soon discover that their task is not an easy one.

Life at Ridley Township would not be complete without the cultural aspects of the fine arts. All phases of art and music are included in a well co-ordinated program.

Learning basic techniques of drawing, sculpturing, and painting is essential for art majors who also employ ceramics paper mache, and clay as additional methods for artistic expression. The commercial art devotee secures ample training in advertising and costume designing.

Harmony in action is evident in the music department by the size and number of vocal and instrumental groups. These various organizations meet in daily classes to perfect selections for their numerous appearances. Cognizant of the fact that some pupils are not interested in participating in the band and chorus, "Music for Enjoyment" is offered solely to develop appreciation through understanding the great works and their composers.

Dixieland combo consisting of Angelo Cibiotti, Walter Waniewski, Edward Wolcott, Jeffrey Kailey and Nello Ma... auditions for band director Samuel Stinger.

sportsmen and scholars

Development of the mind is a task of staggering proportion but the attention to proper physical maturity is also extremely worthwhile. Aware of this, the wide program of physical education seeks to give young men and women athletic and recreational advantages and more formal courses in personal health and hygiene.

Sports are taught from a sound basis regarding structure and rules. Personal enjoyment is sought through the moralistic combination of fair play and team work.

Teen-age apprehensions and misconceptions are alleviated by a social hygiene emphasis and practical learning is imparted through First Aid. With a two-fold plan such as this, Ridley Township seeks to prepare students to enjoy better physical health.

Anxiously awaiting the tap-off, Richard Hopkins and Drew Baum endeavor to set their teams off to a good start, Mr. Hugh Wynne referees.

CLASS OF 1964 piloted

New faces and ideas characterized this year's sophomores as they became acclimated to high school life. Under the leadership of their officers and sponsors the group prospered scholastically and financially.

Funds to support the various functions of the class were raised through the sale of magazines. With the profits earned by personal energetic salesmanship, the treasury was given a substantial foundation.

Friday, October 27, 1961, marked the beginning of social gatherings of the class of '64. With music furnished by the "Townsmen" and entertainment provided by classmates, the gymnasium came alive as the "Harvest Moon Party" began.

Sophomores combined efforts and talents with members of the Junior Class and presented "Cheaper by the Dozen" a three-act comedy. As the final curtain closed on April 7, both the audience and participants agreed that the finished product justified the long hours of preparation.

Climax of an enriching year was the Sophomore Hop on May 5. As the Class of 1964 looked back on its many successes, it felt confident of facing the future.

Advisors Miss Virginia McMichael, Mrs. Roslyn Glantz, Mr. Samuel Stinger, and Mr. Louis Casciato make advance preparations for the Sophomore Hop.

CLASS OF '63 arises

Ability and enthusiasm have made the Class of 1963 an outstanding group. The industrious class members worked together with their sponsors to make this past year an outstanding one.

Crisp autumn weather heralded the arrival of football games. Operating the concessions stand at all home games was both a source of income and a source of fun for the juniors. Candy was sold all year in the store after school by class members. Beginning on October 1, the salesmen started selling Christmas cards to net the class a handsome profit.

"These Wonderful Years," theme for the class party on October 21, marked a gay beginning for the year's social whirl. The trip to Washington on November 17 took the juniors to the heart of our nation's government. The Junior-Sophomore play was successful because of the combined efforts of the actors and behind-the-scenes assistants. Climaxing the year was the Junior Prom at the Alpine Inn on April 27.

Successful Christmas card sales drive is the goal of junior advisors: Mr. Charles Chapel, Mr. David Curry, Mrs. Doris LeCron, and Mrs. Jane Smith.

STUDENT LIFE

General weekly meeting of the Student Government finds president Paul Conte discussing tentative plan for financing and sponsoring a foreign exchange student with assembled

Council members. This project was organized and undertaken as one of primary importance for the efforts of this year's Student Council at Ridley Township.

STUDENT COUNCIL exists to express wishes and direct

Maintaining an efficient and effective student government is the aim of the Student Council. Each homeroom elects one delegate to represent them in this organization. Mrs. Ruth Kemp and five senior officers guide this governmental body in all its activities throughout the school year.

Our Student Council is responsible for the bi-annual United Fund Drive, monitoring the halls and governing the student body. This year a Saint Patrick's Dance has been added to the long list of money-raising projects which includes the annual Christmas dance and cake bakes. The money raised by these projects will be used chiefly to finance a foreign exchange student during the 1962-63 school year.

Effective government needs the support of the faculty, the administration, and the student body at any high school. At Ridley Township High School all these groups work together toward making the Student Council run smoothly.

United Fund Drive was again handled by the Student Council representatives. Tabulating the contributions made by the homerooms are: advisor Mrs. Ruth Kemp, Loretta Raso and treasurer Diane Lake.

Familiar, indeed, are the faces of these monitors Paul Costello (pointing to pupils running in hall), Bill Donato, James Donato and the long arm of the law, Ken Zitarelli

Executive body of Student Council consists of Mrs. Ruth Kemp treas. Diane Lake, vice pres. Ken Zitarelli, rec. secy. Lee Barrett, corr. secy. Diane Marrone and pres. Paul Costello

through the ARCHIVE

Annually the ARCHIVE staff presents a journal of the scholastic year at Ridley, with the result that each reader receives an excellent record of the year's activity in retrospect. Township is proud of its prize-winning book. Last year's edition again ranked an All-American rating at N.S.P.A., Medalist at C.S.P.A., A+ at N.S.Y.A., and received the Keystone Award from the Pennsylvania Yearbook Association.

Unceasing perseverance is the key word for the staff of the ARCHIVE. At the end of their junior year, applications are made and the entire staff is selected. The editors work during the summer choosing a theme and setting up a general format of the book. Starting in September work begins in earnest, for the members know that meeting various deadlines is the prime objective of conscientious workers. Ads and subscriptions are solicited while layouts are made and copy is written. The innumerable chores of producing an ARCHIVE to surpass its predecessors creates many problems, but with the capable guidance of the sponsors and the competency of the staff, hurdles are soon overcome.

All of the functions of a big-time newspaper are incorporated in publishing the Green Raider. Headed by an excellent editorial staff and guided by skilled sponsors, diligent workers produce a paper that fills the R. T. H. S. student body's quest for information and amusement.

Stimulating features and a new printing technique made this publication of far more interest to its readers. A photographic printing system was adopted to limit the cost of the paper, thereby allowing for more frequent and larger issues throughout the year. More pictures were added, thus creating a greater demand for each issue.

It is important for the community, as well as the students and faculty, to be aware of the events that occur at Ridley Township. For this reason, an extension of the Green Raider appears as a weekly column in the Delaware County Daily Times.

Lively groups stemming from BAND add stirring musical spirit

School is not only to provide education and skills for the future, but also to develop and bring to fulfillment the skill and talents an individual already possesses. One organization that does this very job is the Ridley Township Band. As students play one of a number of instruments under the direction of Mr. Samuel Stinger, they are conscious of developing their own technique, of being a member of a fine organization, and cooperating with one another to express the true meaning of the musical composition.

The band's schedule includes preparing selections for the annual Christmas program, a concert in March, a performance in May in conjunction with the chorus and half-time entertainment at all football games.

Latest branch of the band is the dance band, known as the Townsman. Their engagements include most school dances.

Members of all band groups often give up their evenings and spare time for extra rehearsals. It's hard work, but the results justify their efforts and time spent.

Playing the well-known big band tunes of our time, the Townsman provide enjoyable and danceable rhythms for the annual Archive Dance. Student conductor Duane Griffith capably directs the group during their first public appearance of the year.

CHORUS groups offer gay

Music is an expression of the soul's own speech, and for those who love and enjoy it, it is a fulfilling part of life. Choral groups have their own effect not found in other musical groups such as bands or orchestras. Under the direction of Mr. Lee Linn, the various choruses of Ridley Township meet their required schedule of concerts and assemblies: the annual Christmas program, the all-chorus recital in March, the combined performance of the band and chorus in May, and graduation in June.

Groups that participate include the girls' glee club, girls' chorus, mixed chorus, and advanced chorus. To carry out the theme of each concert, musical selections range from sacred songs and spirituals to show tunes, popular hits, folk songs and jazz.

It takes work and practice to give a good performance for the public. For this reason, the fine concerts presented by Ridley Township's chorus groups prove worthwhile and most enjoyable for both the participants and the audience.

Beautiful rendition of "O Holy Night" is sung by Lorraine Smith during the Christmas program. This solo is a traditional part of the annual production.

Convenience of BANK and STORE lauded by school

Under the guidance of Mr. Francis Benischeck the activities of the store and bank are coordinated to operate smoothly. The two establishments are maintained by students during their study halls. These individuals use this opportunity to gain experience handling some of the problems of the business world.

With the opening of this school year, the store launched its second season. A "shopper's world" for all pupils, it carries a wide variety of goods in stock. Included are a supply of books to meet the needs and tastes of all customers, gym supplies, and practically any other item necessary for school activities. All of the store's products are available at extremely reasonable prices.

Ridley Township High's bank provides a great service for all school personnel. Because its business hours are held during all periods of the day, students and organizations find it a most convenient place to carry on all their financial transactions.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY adds thirty-four members

April 12, the date of the annual National Honor Society inductions, was very special for a select group of 19 seniors and 15 juniors. After waiting anxiously throughout the ceremony, junior and senior inductees came to the stage as their names were called and seated themselves with the 13 former senior members. The entire faculty voted for candidates, but the final selection was made by a special faculty council. Membership is based on the qualities of character, scholarship, leadership, and service.

Highlighting the service was the presentation of the Society's gift to the school, a 50-star flag. Guest speaker Reverend John C. Kulp of the Swarthmore Methodist Church gave talk on "Such a Time as This."

Underclassmen pool efforts to present a very successful and

Caught in the act, Peg Rallo and Don Leonard totally disregard the disgusting glances cast their way by Peg's younger brother, A Fullerton, upon his surprise return from the kitchen.

For the second year in the history of Ridley Township High School, the Juniors and the Sophomores combined their talents to produce one three-act play. Prior to last year, each of the two classes had presented three, one-act plays. The play, Cheaper by the Dozen, began at eight-fifteen, on April 7, 1962, in the school auditorium. Although it was feared that the miserable, rainy weather would keep many people away, the auditorium was well filled with parents, friends, teachers, and students.

Originally written by Frank B. Gilbreth, Jr., and Ernestine Gilbreth Carey, the play tells of the life of the twelve Gilbreth children in the "1920's." The story deals mostly with the conflicting desires of parents, trying to protect their young from the anxieties of life, and the children trying to mature and become equal adults. This provided many humorous events which amused audience.

Realistic portrayal of comical characters in SENIOR PLAY

"Simply lovely," declare Linda Evans, Eileen Dennison and Judy Hueske of the Township Garden Club to the apparent dismay of police officer Bill Scott and Mrs. Anderson, LeNora Wright

House lights dimmed, the auditorium became silent, the curtains opened, and the Senior Class play began. Immediately aware of the weeks of hard work and preparation, the audience enjoyed the delightful performance of Edward James' Father Knows Best. A three act comedy, the production was adapted from the popular radio and television programs.

After lines were memorized, rehearsals completed, scenery erected, and properties readied, family life was portrayed in a humorous vein on December 7, 1961, as the seventeen members of the cast and those behind the scenes took their places.

James Anderson, head of the household, finds that running the family is not as easy as he had thought. Through a series of incidents, he manages to have the neighbor's child stay overnight, a basketball team practice in his basement, a broken washing machine repaired, a Garden Club meeting, and to top it off, he calls the police thinking his daughter has eloped. However, things straighten themselves out, as Father manages to surmount each obstacle.

high quality prove to be both entertaining and informative

Assemblies at Township are popular and appealing events. The well-planned programs are heartily received every week by both the students and teachers alike.

Programs presented throughout the year feature student, faculty and guest performers and vary greatly in content. Among the most popular at Ridley are the band and the chorus concerts, National Honor Society inductions, the Student Council campaign, demonstrations by experts in various fields, and the tri-class assembly.

Ridley Township's own Mr. Robert Donato, superintendent of schools, shared some of his experiences on the tour of the Soviet Union at a special program. Impressions of Russia were given on another occasion by Mr. Richard Thomas, a special foreign correspondent. Other highlights of the year included the Naval Band concert, an impersonator, and a well-known bone specialist and detective.

Activities of JUNIOR TRIP center around nation's capitol

Several juniors stop to admire the well kept grounds that surround beautiful Mount Vernon in Virginia. Mount Vernon was the final historic site to be visited by the class that day

At 7:15 on November 17, 1961, the Junior Class of Ridley Township High School boarded trains and started on their long-awaited trip to Washington, D. C.

After arriving in Washington and boarding busses, the juniors spent a busy morning touring our nation's capital. They saw, among other things, the Capitol Building and the White House. Lunchtime was spent at the Smithsonian Institute. Afterwards, the class of '63 visited Arlington Cemetery and saw the changing of the guard at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. A visit to beautiful Mount Vernon, on the Potomac River, concluded their tour. The long day and the chilly autumn air combined to give the sightseers a healthy appetite which was easily satisfied at Hogate's Restaurant where they enjoyed a delicious meal.

When the juniors had finished their supper they boarded the busses and headed for the railroad station. The train ride home topped off a perfect day which will not be forgotten by the class of 1963.

New York City gains many more admirers after SENIOR TRIP

Many seniors were able to catch a glimpse of Rockefeller Plaza with its skaters when the busses stopped in the very heart of New York City enroute to Radio City Music Hall

Seniors were unable to stop at Saint Patrick's Cathedral but the guided tour took them past this famous landmark as well as many others found in this fascinating city—the pulse of the Empire State

Bright and early on the morning of November 17, 1961, the Senior Class met at Ridley Park station to depart on its trip to New York. The air was filled with excitement as everyone anticipated a day in the greatest city in the Empire State.

First stop was the United Nations with a guided tour through the building. After viewing the U. N. at work, the class toured New York City by bus, passing by many famous landmarks such as the Empire State Building, the Statue of Liberty, Rockefeller Center, St. Patrick's Cathedral on Fifth Avenue, Grant's Tomb on Riverside Drive, Times Square, and the Brooklyn Bridge. At Radio City Music Hall, the seniors saw "The Flower Drum Song," the "Rockettes," and heard the New York Philharmonic Orchestra. At the end of the day, the group headed toward the Village Barn for dinner followed by a floor show. Last stop: home!

Capable and patient guides led the seniors through the United Nations Buildings on a visit that was not only interesting but was also enlightening

Successful yearling season culminated in well-planned HOP

Bedecked in all her finery, it is certain that Paula Overstreet, along with escort Ed Martin, has enjoyed a wonderful evening

Dazzling reflections cast off by this sparkling pond lend a romantic tone to the affair and seem to enchant those crowded around its waters.

Excitement filled the air on the evening of May 5 as the Class of '64 gathered for the biggest social event of their year, the Sophomore Hop. The gymnasium was transformed into an array of colors by the swirling dresses of the young belles and by the elaborate decorations which centered around the theme "Sayonara." A graceful oriental bridge was the centerpiece of the decor, while a giant Buddha and a colorful mural added a touch of Eastern mystic.

Sophomores and their dates danced to the melodies of Guy Brandolini and his Orchestra. The songs, both old and new, set the mood for the evening and added a touch of romantic glamour. Although this enchanting evening was the first big night for the sophs, they will not say goodbye to the fun and laughter but only "sayonara."

"Three coins in the fountain" will certainly produce a majestic time for Barbara Cleveland and her escort and Ruth Lindsay and John Reichenbach at Soph Hop.

Their destination, the Alpine Inn, having been reached, couples Grace Dunbar and Tim Bowman, Peg Woerner and Tom Curran, and Lois Huffines and Wayne Conner look forward to a wonderful evening.

Last-minute preparations reassure Betty Bollinger and Bob Ramont of the splendid night before them at the Junior Prom.

Juniors enjoy their gala "MOMENTS TO REMEMBER"

After months of anticipation, April 27 arrived, bringing with it the Junior Prom. The much-looked-forward-to dinner-dance was held amid the perfect setting of the Alpine Inn in Springfield. The theme of the evening was "Moments to Remember."

At 8:00 p.m. a delicious dinner was served. Afterward, the starry-eyed guests danced far into the dreamy evening to the soft and lingering melodies supplied by the Caruso Brothers Orchestra. Refreshments were served continually through the night to the gay party.

All too soon 1:00 a.m. arrived, and like Cinderella's magic ball, the precious evening had to come to an end. The wistful juniors regretfully bade farewell to the Alpine Inn. The Prom was over, but they would always have those wonderful "Moments to Remember" in their hearts.

Fully-occupied dance floor at the Alpine Inn only indicates that all couples are having a good time. Juniors and their dates enjoyed these precious moments at the Junior Prom on Friday, April 27.

Fantastic Hotel Sheraton provides a majestic tableau for

For the Class of '62 the social finale of their high school life could not come soon enough. The date of the Senior Prom finally arrived as everyone readied themselves on May 12 for a delightful evening at the Sheraton Hotel in Philadelphia.

Starting at 7 p.m., everyone mixed graciously until they retired to their tables for a delicious full course turkey dinner which was topped off with Baked Alaska for dessert. After chatting happily over the meal, the diners then drifted out to the floor of the Grand Ballroom for an evening of dancing. The variety of dance melodies plus the great showmanship of the Harry Beneke Orchestra made "Moonlight in May" pass all too rapidly for the enchanted couples.

That special night has finally arrived and Allen Drake, Karen Henkins, John Shadel, and Margaret Anderson pause dreamily at the Main Lobby of the Sheraton Hotel's Grand Ballroom.

President of the Class of 1962, David Powell, presents flowered crown symbolic of the title of 'Queen of the Senior Prom' to this year's reigning beauty, Jaya Hess.

Joyful seniors Judy Baker, Dotty Galbraith, and Kathy Werts and escorts Tom Baxter, Dick Pepperman, and Bill Wolfe bid farewell to Grand Ballroom and enchanting Prom.

"MOONLIGHT IN MAY"

Climax of the evening was the Grand March in which every couple walked around the ballroom led by the senior class officers. Ending with a procession of the young ladies in front of the judging orchestra, the march provided both merriment and a gay fan of color. The judging ended with the coronation of lovely Jaye Hess as Queen of the Senior Prom and the presentation of her court, Lee Barrett, Marilyn Harman, Norma Hilditch, Sherianne Hitchens, and Gai Miller. The orchestra provided many dance tunes ranging from the slow fox trots to swinging polkas. At one o'clock the seniors said adieu to the Sheraton but continued the fun at an after prom party at the Masonic Lodge in Ridley Park.

Formation of the line for the Grand March is quickly attended to by the senior class officers. Eventual selection of the Prom queen and her court was made possible by this promenade of all senior girls.

Proud queen Jaye Hess and her court, Lee Barrett, Norma Hilditch, Gail Miller, Sherianne Hitchens, and Marilyn Harman are given official congratulations by Pres. David Power.

Far from the maddening crowd — ecstatic couples Dave Dickson and Judy Van Zant, Ed Hagan and Richard Kitchin, and Jack Hargreaves and Judy Firoon are seen here to be the happiest time they are having at the Sheraton Hotel on "Moonlight in May."

Pupils choose senior beauty to reign as MISS ARCHIVE 1962

Annually, a dance is held at Ridley Township to honor the Archive and the female members of the Senior Class. Sponsored by the staff of the 1962 yearbook, the Archive Dance took place on Saturday, October 28, 1961. Music for the affair was provided by the school dance band, The Townsmen. The beautiful décor of the gym was especially befitting the highlight of the evening, the coronation of Miss Archive.

Nominees for Miss Archive were suggested by each senior homeroom and those named were narrowed down to ten semi-finalists by a vote of the Class of '62. All in attendance at the dance cast the deciding ballots for Miss Archive and her court. The votes were tabulated by a specially appointed committee of faculty members and alumni. Climaxing a festive evening, Barbara Deger Pennington, Miss Archive of 1960, announced runners-up Jaye Hess and Gail Miller, and Gail Pugh crowned her successor, Judy Baker, Miss Archive of 1962.

Prior to annual autumn homecoming day football game, Center of town is crowded with people. In center, the trophy is presented to Eddystone's Football Queen, Anne Edwards, by the Big Green's cheerleaders Diane Lake and Carolyn Dubolino.

OIL CAN DANCE entertains teams and honors football queen

Climaxing another Thanksgiving football victory for Township the Oil Can Dance was held on Friday evening, November 24, from eight to eleven. Both the Stoners' fans and the Raiders' rooters mixed graciously while the Townsman provided harmonious dance tunes. Gaiety began early in the evening when the oil can was presented ceremoniously to Eddystone's Football Queen, Anne Edwards, by the Big Green's cheerleaders Diane Lake and Carolyn Dubolino.

Highspotting the affair was the coronation of Ridley's Grid Iron Queen Gail Miller. The radiant Queen then presented her equally pretty court: Mary Lou Dreyer, Diane Lake, Judy Van Zant and Bobbie Zimmer. The belles and their escorts led off the next dance while the audience watched the lovely sight with keen admiration. This festive occasion marked the end of the football season for another year, but the friendly rivals will meet again next year for their annual Thanksgiving Day game and social.

Traditional Oil Can trophy, which must be publicly displayed by the losers of Thanksgiving Day football game is "awarded" to Eddystone High by Ridley cheerleader Carol Dubolino.

Festive holiday occasions give rise to enjoyable DANCES

From fall to spring, dances dot the calendar with long-remembered social successes.

Coming first on the agenda, the "Snow Ball" brightened up the Yuletide holiday. On December 22, the gymnasium was turned into a winter wonderland complete with "Frosty the Snowman" and glistening fir trees. Sponsored by the Student Council the "Ball" fitted in perfectly with the spirit of the season.

"Cupid Holiday" on February 10, highlighted the sweetheart season. Couples danced to the tunes of "The Townsman" in an atmosphere of bliss. The climax of the evening was the drawing for the selection of a Sweetheart Couple.

Heralding St. Patrick's Day the Student Council sponsored the "Sham-Rock." This dance on March 16 feted male members of the senior class as a King of the Sham-Rock. The coronation of King Dave Powell and the presentation of his court, Paul Costello, George Frame, Chick Goebel, and John Pedrick was the hit of the night.

Spotlight dance is held for the winners of the title "Sweetheart Couple" Peggy Woerner and Tom Curran. This affair was sponsored by the F.T.A.

Varied CLUB program encompasses wide range of interests

Education and enjoyment are afforded Township's students through the club program. Since membership is strictly on a voluntary basis the interest is kept alive through enthusiastic participation on the part of both the sponsor and enrollee.

Each group is conducted by a teacher inspired to share his particular interest with a novice or an expert. The program is extensive allowing a wide selection ranging from Auto Service to Writing for Enjoyment. Many take advantage of these weekly sessions enabling them to delve into activities of individual importance and personal satisfaction.

Clark Printing House, Inc. employee demonstrates operation of linotype machine for future Archive staff A. Colistro, R. Merrit, M. Lombardi, and Mrs. K. Powell.

ARCHIVE — Introducing interested and capable juniors to yearbook publication is the purpose of Mrs. Catherine Robinson's club. Members are given a basis in the procedure for compiling and publishing the school annual. The future staff gains the background and experience necessary for handling problems involved in the undertaking.

ARTS AND CRAFTS — For the benefit of those who enjoy drawing, painting, and handicrafts, the Art Club has served as an outlet for talent and self-expression. This inspires many a student to adopt new hobbies as an amateur artist. These young artists are able to broaden their creative interests while producing worthwhile projects.

Charcoal sketching a live mannikin is excellent practice for Mrs. Palanica's art club. Object of club is to improve technique and style of budding artists.

AUTO SERVICE — Automobile repair and service is studied by the members of this club. The fundamental operations of cars are explained and methods of repair are demonstrated. Many take advantage of this chance to study the mechanics and function of cars which they would not ordinarily be able to schedule on their rosters.

While examining the innards of a wet cell battery Mr. W. Gorman provides club with useful knowledge and insight into the operation of the American automobile.

from athletics to literature

BIOLOGY—Students interested in the field of biological science find this club the answer to their desire for a more thorough study of the subject. Here they delve into the mysteries of living organisms, study man's complex systems and construct fascinating projects which supplement knowledge gained in the classroom.

BOWLING—Having fun while developing skills is the primary objective of Mr. Francis Benischek's club. Divided into teams of four, the members compete all year to win trophies for such achievements as high score, high average and high series. Such friendly matches encourage these young bowlers to perfect their game.

Anatomy of vertebrates such as the fish is the main interest of Sherianne Hitchens who works with Mrs. Alice Moore during one of the biology club meetings.

Intent on a strike, P. Towarnicki takes her approach. Such seriousness makes this team of M. Heitz, J. Kirkoff, H. Martin, and H. Zierler tough to beat.

BRIDGE—Under the sponsorship of Miss Stella Economos and Mrs. Virginia Hersey both beginning and advanced bridge players compete in weekly intra-club matches. Actual playing is an important factor in learning the game and also gives those who have already mastered the art of playing a chance to demonstrate their skills.

Intensity reigns while bridge club members vie for winning score. Pau Seiverd and Barbara McIntire await play of opponents Sue Pachowka and Ed Strzala.

CLUBS establish sound foundations for future ambitions

CHESS — Organized and supervised by Mr. Donald Ross and Mr. David Curry, the club meetings provide a source of recreation and friendly competition for pupils possessing knowledge of the game. Through weekly contests devotees of chess acquire the skill and concentration necessary to become adept at the game of kings.

Opponents Peter Tate and Kenneth Zitarelli match wits as Taylor Miles watches each move. In background Andy Messina counteracts Sidney Kauffman's opening.

Obviously pleased with the progress, Mr. Isaac Styer oversees finishing touches applied by Garry DiMartini and Al Curatola to jewelry box and leather handbag.

DEBATING — Forensic champions of tomorrow are tutored in the fundamentals of parliamentary procedure by sponsor Mr. Louis Casciato. An addition to the schedule this year, the club allows its members to gain poise and confidence in formal argumentation. Each week the intra-club debates are studied and critically analyzed.

Substantiating the position she held in a debate, Peggy Krauss, a debate club member, shows Grace Dunbar the article on which she based her rebuttal.

Working on isometric constructions, Ronald Jarek enlists the aid of Mr. Louis Spizzirri. Club members prepare for futures in the field of engineering.

ENGINEERING CLUB — Inspiring a desire for creativeness in planning is the objective of this club. Future engineers design their own articles and then see them constructed in the shop under the direction of Mr. Marion Cuppy. The assembled models reflect the ability and time that each has devoted to his individual project.

Future Teachers of America employ parliamentary procedure at meetings. President LeNora Wright presides as secretary Mary Ann Alexo records the minutes.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA — Acquainting pupils with the field of teaching is the aim of Miss Snively's club. Reports by representatives of the profession and informal talks by former club members are included in the agenda. Dues and fund-raising projects provide scholarships annually for some future teacher.

GOLF — Practice and perseverance during club period enable amateur duffers to learn the fundamentals of the game. After mastering the basic principles the fledgelings learn various techniques for improving their skills. Low scores and facility on the green are the results of their weekly practice sessions with an expert coach.

Proper stance and grip are practiced by future golfer Drew Baum under close scrutiny of fellow club members George Toland and Brent Blundin, and Mr. Hugh Wynne.

High ideals for tomorrow's

INVESTMENT—Through membership in this club students learn basic facts and concepts about the financial world by purchasing securities and following their growth. Information used as a guide for these young investors is taken from several pamphlets written by their sponsor Mr. Peter Yacyk and from viewing investment films.

Stock dividends seem to add up to a profit for members of the investment club who, under the direction of Mr. Peter Yacyk, learn secrets of wise investment

LABORATORY ASSISTANTS—This club provides the student interested in chemistry with an environment to further his study. Under capable direction the assistants develop skills in lab procedure. Previewing experiments to be performed in class enables these pupils to assist science teachers during classroom demonstrations.

Cloud chamber formed by bell jar and vacuum pump commands attention of future scientists, Eileen Dennison and Thomas Michelson, and Mr. Herbert Pless.

LITERARY—Individuals who seek pleasure in reading in addition to an increased knowledge of stimulating books discover that this club fulfills their needs. While becoming engrossed in the fascinating worlds of the past, present and future, members learn to more fully appreciate and understand great literature easily accessible to them.

Aspiring to instill an appreciation of good literature, sponsor Mrs. Roslyn Glantz exposes her club to various types of creative communication.

leaders to follow are instilled in R.T.H.S. CLUB members

MAKE-UP — One of the most fascinating phases of play production is undertaken by the club members. The fundamentals of making up are gained through the use of charts, which explain in detail how characters are created, and actually working with make up. In addition, the club includes a study of many drama techniques.

Sponsor Mrs. Janet Steele directs make-up artists Betty Lou Wagner, Diane Plisko and Marianne Lubberman in transforming Edward Shuckers into an aged man.

NEEDLEWORK — Future seamstresses assemble weekly to learn new and intricate stitches. Girls interested in sewing as a hobby are given the chance to compare work and find new ideas in pattern books. With an expert to aid them, they easily make knitted, crocheted, and embroidered articles which are both useful and attractive.

Carefully following directions of Miss Dorothy Hampton is young seamstress, Virginia Alexander. Sewing enthusiasts find an outlet for talent in the needlework club.

PROJECTIONIST — Operating various audio-visual aids available in the school for classroom use is the club's responsibility. This training provides an assistant for faculty members using the projection room. These boys are eager to offer their services and improve their proficiency in operating the equipment always in demand by the staff.

Overhead projector is adjusted by Daniel Roy as fellow projectionists, Thomas Agatone and John Ferry, help Mr. Charles Chapel prepare for a lecture on its care and use.

R.T.H.S. CLUBS occupy

SIGHT READING — Interpreting musical notes at a glance is the purpose of the club, and for this reason it is invaluable for devotees of music. To become fluent the sight-reader begins by learning basic note values, scales, and elements of notation. Gradually he progresses from one line melodies to more intricate rhythms.

Proficiency is the goal of music enthusiasts practicing their ability to read and perform music from sight under the direction of Mr. Lee Linn.

BOYS' SPORTS—Sports-minded young men of the 10th, 11th and 12th grades have an opportunity to meet and discuss athletics. The sponsors of these organizations encourage participation in sports offered by the school through a varied and interesting program which includes informal talks, films and prominent guest speakers.

Lecture by sponsor Mr. Felix Marion allows the upper-class sports club to gain insight and understanding of the strategy of modern high school football.

Boys of the sophomore sports club enjoy informal talk by sponsor Mr. Carl Schnellenbach on the point scoring system in interscholastic wrestling.

GIRLS' SPORTS — Coordination, precision, and practice are essential to become adept at any kind of sport. The members of this club strive toward perfection as they consistently review skills in gymnastics. In order to see athletics in action, the group is frequently conducted on field trips to local sporting events.

Girls sports club, supervised by Miss Mary Mellece, display athletic prowess and gymnastic ability acquired by long practice and dedication to the art.

leisure hours with many worthwhile activities to accomplish

STAGECRAFT — Capable workers to assist in the various functions of the school are the object of Mr. John Wagner's club. Each member is taught to set up scenery and operate stage equipment. These well-trained boys and their knowledge make possible the smooth backstage operation of all student productions during the year.

Experienced sets crew of stage crafts club takes a break in their activities to check on assignments and compare stage diagram with sets plan.

TENNIS — Various techniques of one of America's oldest games are practiced every Monday afternoon by Miss Sarah Peck's tennis club. Whenever weather permits, the players take to the courts and apply their newly-acquired tips in actual combat. Sports-minded young women find a game of tennis invigorating exercise.

WRITING FOR ENJOYMENT — Students are given helpful hints on how to express themselves more fluently in their writing with a special emphasis placed on individual experiences in literary work. In addition to practice in written assignments, discussions on modern authors and current essays stimulate desire for perfection.

SENIORS leave "school on

Refreshed by summer vacation the seniors began their final year in high school with renewed vitality. Looking forward to a very active year, the Class of 1962 opened its social calendar with the class party, "Seniors Go Collegiate," on October 7, 1961. Also in the autumn portraits and name cards were ordered. Since the suit club was so successful for the previous class, the seniors decided to continue the profitable venture to fortify their treasury.

Taking time from their studies, the seniors toured New York City on November 17. Highspots of the day included a tour of the United Nations buildings, a show at Radio City Music Hall and dinner at the Village Barn. On November 23, the Class of 1962 hosted the annual Oil Can Dance which was highlighted by the coronation of the Football Queen.

Considering last minute preparations for the annual Oil Can Dance are the senior class advisors: Mr. Charles Downes, Miss Maria Komanowska, Mrs. Virginia Hersey and Mr. Charles Price. The yearly dance culminates the Thanksgiving holiday festivities.

hill" with cherished memories of three wonderful years

"Father Knows Best," a three act comedy, successfully combined the varied talents of the seniors. The sale of tickets, construction of scenery and conscientious rehearsals culminated in an excellent presentation of the play on December 9, 1961. The amazing salesmanship of this class was demonstrated once again when Christmas candy sales soared far beyond expectations.

With the start of the New Year, the group worked diligently to maintain its high scholastic standard. The Class of '62 entered enthusiastically into the preparations and presentation of the tri-class assembly. On May 12 the ballroom of the Sheraton Hotel was the scene of the Senior Prom, which was the most elaborate social event of the year.

Class Night, Baccalaureate and Commencement followed in rapid succession and too soon became fond memories.

Informal meeting provides a brief moment of relaxation for busy senior class officers, Philip Marion, Vice President; Jaye Hess, Secretary; Judith Van Zant, Treasurer; and David Powell, President.

Perhaps we're fooled by the endlessness of now,
Perhaps because the present's always here,
We fail to see tomorrow's brink somehow
And let our golden hours disappear.

I've wandered through the silent halls
Beyond the point that time allows;
When no one heard I spoke to walls
Lost in the thoughts of heres and nows.

But life is more than present time
'Tis hopeful dreams of morrows;
We're often lured to its finer clime
And to yesterdays of sorrows.

Live not in time that's past control;
Do not put off good schemes.
Live now for now and give your soul
To your wildest, present dreams.

DAVID REED POWELL

ALMA MATER

*On a hill in Ridley Township
There's a school most dear.
Alma Mater we have named it,
Come, let forth our cheer.
Ridley Township! May we ever
Keep thy name most high—
You have set a standard for us
May it never die!*

*On the field or in the classroom
May thy children be.
Striving ever onward, upward
To improve with thee!
Ridley Township! Never waver
From thy destiny—
And thy many sons and daughters
Loyal still will be.*

*Through the years which lie before us
Be our guiding star—
Let thy spirit live within us
Though we wander far—
Ridley Township! Alma Mater!
We'll remember thee
And thy precepts long will linger
In our memory.*
